What is an Open Badge?

- Open Badges are created and issued to recognise competencies, skills, achievements or attitudes of their recipients.
- From a technical point of view, an Open Badge is a digital picture, which contains metadata that informs who has issued the badge to whom and on what basis.
- Users can display their Open Badges anywhere across the web. Open Badges are portable credentials.
- E.G. The Open badge can be attached to an e-mail signature or CV
